Lost Bells.

Now is the time to sow oats.

Dr. Aiken is having his store painted.

Cotton commands 94 to 94 cents on the market.

There are only two prisoners in jail at present.

Read the new advertisements on the second and fourth pages.

Mr. R. M. Hiney is having additional shelving put in his store.

The fire engine was out for practice on Friday and was found to work satisfactorily.

Select a few acres of good land and after thoroughly preparing and manuring them sow oats.

If you take JERSEY FLATS occasionally you will never suffer with chills and fever. For sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

Another supposed mad dog was killed by a colored man near the college on Tuesday afternoon.

The Fairfield Baptist Association will meet next Thursday, October 12, at Bonham church, Richmond county.

We have not heard of any gin-sawed arms or hands this year, but the usual crop will no doubt be full.

Mr. J. S. McCreight will soon traverse the county in the interest of THE NEWS AND HERALD. Look out for him.

Fifty bushels of oats can be made on one acre which will be worth about forty dollars next spring when your corn is out.

Center & Clarke, and D. A. Hendrix each have a new advertisement in this issue. Read it and remember its contents.

A night operator is now stationed at this place, Mr. Chas. Boyd, who filled the position formerly, is again the operator.

The Alliance was in session for several hours on Saturday. The next meeting will be held on the first Friday in November.

The fellow who lost a keyring with two counters and one key can obtain the same by coming up and acknowledging the corn.

The contract for building the Episcopal church has been awarded to Mr. Geo. W. Waring, of Columbia, who will begin work at once.

The young people of Winnsboro contemplate giving a theatrical and musical entertainment soon for the benefit of Mr. Zion Institute.

Some of the farmers in the flooded districts of the county have been utilizing the corn that was not too badly damaged, by feeding it to hogs.

A barn-fall of oats next spring will save the expense and loss of time of wagon and team in sending to town to get Western corn sold on lien.

Some of the farmers are now curing corn cobs for sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

Winnsboro has one student of olapkuk, the new universal language, W. H. Hanchan, Esq., who in his spare moments devotes himself to this language.

The books in the treasurer's office will be opened from the 15th of this month until the 15th December, after which the penalty in such cases will be enforced.

One of the evidences of prosperity this fall, aside from the new stores, is the number of new clerks engaged in the older firms. This shows confidence in the future.

The Survivors' meeting which was to convene in the Court House on Saturday was not held, owing, we suppose to the long time consumed by the Alliance in their meeting.

There was a slight thunder storm and rain on Tuesday. The heavy rain there was quite a heavy fall of hail, but being of short duration no serious damage was done.

The pensions have been paid by the Clerk for September. This exhausts the appropriation for the year. It is estimated that $125,000 will be required for pensions next year.

JERSEY FLATS CHILL AND FEVER CURE is guaranteed by all merchants selling it to cure, or money refunded. For sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

The Governor has appointed the following commissioners of election for this county: State, J. W. Hanchan, Jas. M. Stewart, S. C. McDowell, Federal—H. N. Obar, R. E. Ellison, Wm. R. Kabb.

Q. D. Williford & Co. having enlarged their place of business find it necessary to enlarge their advertisement in order to enumerate the increased bargains they have to offer. Read what they have to say.

We call attention to the advertisement of Caldwell & Ruff in this issue. Their trade has been gratifying since their opening on account of the great bargains they offer. These bargains are still to be had at their store.

We call attention to the new advertisement of C. Muller. He has been established in Winnsboro for many years, and has a most excellent reputation as a jeweler. Read his advertisement and give him a call.

Fairfield academy is open to students to the South Carolina University up to date, with some others who will attend in the future. The University opened with 180 students, and 200 are expected before the week ends.

JERSEY FLATS Chills and Fever Cure for sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin and all druggist merchants.

Let us all whoop up the Winnsboro trade. It is a good place to do so, and the goods are needed. We suppose the largest stock of goods ever brought here has been purchased by our merchants this fall, and they are determined to sell them.

Jas. Glenn McCants, Esq., delivered an able and instructive address before the Richmond and Fairfield Bible Society at Horeb church on Sunday. We were not present, but learn from those who heard the address that it was one full of thought and calculated to do much good.

Wait!—Wait for the opening at Mrs. J. D. McCauley's, where you can purchase the handsome Pattern Hats at cost on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 11, 12 and 13.

Rev. Dr. Burrows, pastor First Baptist Church, Augusta, Ga., will have us, H. B. P. myself and in my family for years and find he is the best remedy known for sick headache, constipation or bilious disorders. I advise any one suffering from these troubles to use it and keep it in their family. For sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

TEACHER ELICITED.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of Mount Zion held on Thursday, Dr. John Boyd was elected a teacher at the Institute vice Mr. W. D. Douglass resigned. The election of Dr. Boyd is a most fitting one, and will give general satisfaction.

—To turn gray hair to its natural color and beauty, use Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer, the best and most reliable preparation science has given us.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.—The case of Labb v. Flenniken, carried up on appeal from this county, has been decided by the Supreme Court. The judgment of the Court below is reversed without prejudice. Ragsdale & Ragsdale for appellants. Obar & Rion for respondents.

MILLINERY.—Mrs. Boag wishes to inform her friends and patrons that she is still in the front in the millinery line with a full stock. Her long experience in that line of business with a most competent milliner, she is prepared to suit all who may favor her with their patronage in goods, styles, and prices.

SURVIVORS' MEETING.—There will be a meeting of Confederate Survivors of the County on Saturday, October 20, in the Court House. A full attendance is desired as an executive committee will be appointed to arrange for a meeting of State Survivors at Columbia during Fair week, besides other business of importance.

COTTON RECEIPTS.—At our last report about 800 bales of cotton had been received at this market. Through the week ending Saturday 778 bales were brought to town. The greatest number sold on any one day was on Saturday, when 300 bales were sold. The prices here continue to be as good as any other convenient market in this section.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.—The following is a list of letters remaining in the Postoffice at Winnsboro, S. C., Oct. 7, 1883:

Mrs. Sarah Harper, Mrs. Mattie Hahn, Miss E. R. Johnston, W. R. Keenan, J. R. Westmoreland & Co.

Persons calling for any of the above letters will please say they were advertised. DuBose Eggleston, Postmaster.

FIRE AT BLYTHEWOOD.—The gin house of C. P. Boney & Co., at Blythe-wood caught on fire from a match or some other explosive substance on Monday. Fire extinguishers being handy the damage was not so serious as it might have been, only a small portion of the gin house being consumed. Some of the damage done to the gin house and all its contents would be destroyed, but such a catastrophe was happily avoided.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following are the real estate transfers for the month of September:

T. G. Patrick to Margaret J. Weldon, 644 acres; consideration, $845.

W. L. Flannigan to Jno. S. Douglass, 140 acres; consideration, $800.

Eliza Rowe to J. M. Boulware, 424 acres; consideration $100.

New York & Southern Telegraph Co. to Western Union Telegraph Co., plant and wires; consideration, $1,800.

T. B. Madison to Sarah E. Crawford, one house; consideration, $1,500.

J. K. Alston to W. S. Monteth, 2216 acres; consideration, $18,000.

WHITE OAK NEWS.—Cotton is opening rapidly, but the receipts at this point are considerably behind that of last season. Crops generally are about one-third short owing to the freshets and other causes.

Mr. J. L. Cameron made 114 gallons of syrup from three-quarters of an acre this year.

The Spring school which has been conducted at this place under the tutelage of Prof. Humphreys, of Gaffney City, has just closed. The students, both old and young, were much interested and learned rapidly.

The school under the charge of Prof. W. P. Lowry is flourishing, having an enrollment of forty scholars, with others to come in yet.

THE YOUNGEST ELECTOR.—The correspondent of the Register, writing from this place says:

"In several papers has appeared the announcement that Col. J. T. Sloan, Jr., of Columbia, is the youngest elector-at-large ever elected in the State of South Carolina. While we would accord to Mr. Sloan every distinction to which he is entitled, we deny him this, as the Hon. Chas. A. Douglass who was elected by far the largest vote in the State Convention to represent the Democracy of Carolina, is ten years Col. Sloan's junior. Fairfield county is proud of the fact that he headed the ticket by so handsome a majority, as she regards him one of her favored sons, who has ever done his duty with ability and honor in his position she has called him to occupy."

COTTON BUYERS.—We are well supplied with cotton buyers in Winnsboro. The following gentlemen are in town who make cotton buying a business: J. C. Curston, with his brothers, J. C. Curston & Co.; J. M. Stewart, with Jones & Robertson, J. W. Carmichael, D. J. Macanlay, Turner Bros. Besides these there are merchants in Winnsboro who buy cotton in connection with their other business. All the buyers have abundant funds and money will be found as good a market as anywhere else. Neither Columbia or Charlotte give better prices, and as far as purchasing what is wanted is concerned, we repeat that the merchants of Winnsboro have a large stock to select from than has ever been brought to this county. The advantages for trade offered by Winnsboro cannot be surpassed.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.—The Hot Springs Daily News says:

"Yesterday (Oct. 3) was the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Dr. and Mrs. J. Howard Carpenter, of the First Baptist church. Their friends were invited to call and spend a few hours with them. The occasion was one of much pleasure both to the popular young pastor and his wife, and the large circle of friends who called upon them and paid their respects. All those who called showed their esteem of the brilliant young minister and his good wife by presenting them with handsome presents, considerable cash being mixed with other nice presents."

Here follows a list of presents:

For Mrs. Carpenter, besides many presents innumerable for his wife to a cord of wood and a wheelbarrow. Mr. Carpenter and wife entertained most royally the large circle of friends who assembled to celebrate the anniversary.

"For years I suffered from loss of appetite and indigestion, but failed to find relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine entirely cured my appetite and digestion are now perfect."—Fred G. Bower, 400 Seventh St., South Boston, Mass.

THE FREIGHT DEPOT.—Numerous complaints are being made about the great lack of space at the freight depot. Cotton has been coming in quite briskly, and as a part of the platform cannot be used a considerable delay is caused in unloading bales, for they have to be dumped where opportunity affords. We think the railroad company should immediately remedy this evil. Besides fixing the portions of the platform unsafe for use, they should give more space for the storage of cotton, for the present space is inadequate for the speedy and expeditious unloading of the staple. This condition of affairs is detrimental to Winnsboro's trade in that it causes unnecessary and expensive delays both to buyer and seller. Mr. Creight informs us that the lumber is ready to repair the unsafe parts of the platform, which repairing should be done immediately. Besides this greater space is needed, and the railroad authorities ought to supply it quickly, as they do not delay farmers in the delivery of their cotton, or shippers in sending off their purchases. We call upon the authorities to make the needed repairs.

PERSONAL.—Prof. W. D. Douglass left on Saturday for his new post of duty in the South Carolina University. His genial manners and pleasant company will be missed by his many friends in Winnsboro, who will watch his career with interest and confidence.

Messrs. W. W. Dixon and David Dwight have both been appointed agents of B Company in the City, the former as orderly. Our young friends will doubtless wear their honors acceptantly.

Rev. J. S. Moffatt, of Chester, was in town for a short time on Monday on business.

Mrs. W. L. McDonald left on Monday. She will visit her sister, Mrs. C. S. Brice, at Woodward, before going to York.

Dr. John Boyd, our retiring school commissioner has been elected principal of the Bethel School, No. 18, and the Rev. Mr. McDonald, No. 10, but having already accepted a position in the collegiate department of Mount Zion will not accept either.

Misses Pet and May Edmunds, who have been visiting in town, returned to Ridgeway Monday.

The Rev. A. M. Pittman and family have returned to Winnsboro after a visit of two months in Union county.

Mr. M. O. Dantzier has been visiting friends in town this week after an absence of several years.

As an appetizer and nerve tonic, Barrett's Tonic is unsurpassed. Try it. For sale by McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.

THE ALL POWERFUL RAILROAD.

Mr. Editor: A few days ago, I came across a short sketch in the New York Star, which, whether it be considered as instruction or prophecy, is so applicable to Winnsboro, that it will well bear reproduction in your columns:

It is curious to note how little the people permanently resident in any certain locality recognize the real sources of their coming prosperity. For years after the failure of the whale fishery Sag Harbor, Long Island, was under a cloud, its people went to California, to the west to the city and to worse places. It had been a business, it dwelt mournfully on the past prosperity of the town. It started a cotton mill, which grew a sickly life and finally departed in smoke and flame. Yet today Sag Harbor has more stores than ever before.

It is better ordered and more prosperous than ever. Streets once wastes of land are now lined by shade trees. Three steamboats arrive at the wharf daily, and depart, where one more day ago equal to the business thirty years ago. What has been the chief source of this increasing prosperity? There is but one answer. It is the all powerful railroad.

Winnsboro has arisen from the lethargy into which she was thrown by the disastrous civil war. The children of then are the men of business enterprise of the present. They are enjoying the full tide of energy, and untrammeled by the traditions of "befo" they are seeking to restore the prosperity and the influence of the town of their home. Like Sag Harbor, Winnsboro "hankers after a business."

Let her but lead the lesson taught by experience; let her but recognize that not in the "sickly cotton mill" but in the "all powerful railroad" lies the key to Sag Harbor's prosperity, and Winnsboro will take on a new lease of life. Therefore, it behooves the citizens of Winnsboro to encourage the projected railroads in every way, and with heart, purse, and voice to do everything in their power to build these iron roads to prosperity and success. THE OATS CROP.

In answer to the four questions recently propounded in this paper, the following answers have been received. The questions and answers are given below:

1. Was not the planting of oats, on abandoned fields, almost abandoned before Col. Wyatt Aiken introduced the red rust-proof variety, and from whence did he procure the seed?

2. For a few years after the introduction of the red rust-proof oats was the oats crop both abundant and certain?

3. Has not the deterioration of the seed caused the failures of the past few years, and would not the importation and use of a fresh supply of seed again insure good crops?

4. With the poor corn crop of this year would it not be advisable to make the experiment this fall with fresh seed?

1. In my opinion the crop was abandoned more on account of the price of cotton and renting of the land for a certain quantity of cotton; that only land that was too poor for cotton was sown in oats. I do not know where Col. Aiken procured the seed.

2. For a few years after the introduction of the red rust-proof oats they were a good crop, but they were not so good as the ones that were introduced by Col. Aiken.

3. I do not believe the deterioration of the seed is the real cause of the failures. As stated above, the seed has a great deal to do with it, besides lack of attention in sowing, in selecting good land, manuring, and properly putting in. If the pure rust-proof variety can be obtained, I think it would be a good idea to get them, although there was a fine crop of oats this season in this section, having been sown in September and January, following a pea crop. I believe cotton seed pays better on oats than any other crop.

4. By all means sow both early and late, putting cotton seed on freely. S. R. JOHNSTON.

Seed has undergone a material change since first introduced here in the year 1873. I mistake it for the variety that year 1882. I had no trouble in securing a paying crop, entirely free from rust on ordinary lands. The cold winters did not effect them enough to require re-sowing, as they do now.

When a first brought here, they were red and a long, stiff beard, and were much heavier than they are now.

From my observation and experience with them I think that if we could get a fresh supply of seed we could still make good crops.

I have always understood that Col. Wyatt Aiken first brought them from Mexico about the year 1870. Perhaps Col. Wash Watts, of Laurens, could give the most reliable information on this subject. W. B. X.

Mr. Editor: Replying to your postal card of the 21st ult., in reference to red oats, will say in answer to first one that I am unable to give a full answer in reference to the production of red oats before the introduction of the red oats by Col. Aiken, as I had only commenced farming about that time; but am inclined to think from memory that very few oats were sown before that time.

I am unable to say where Col. Aiken got the seed, but have heard it said that they must have been introduced from Scotland, as it is there that the finest oats are raised.

In answer to the second question, will say that I attribute the failure in the oats crop for the last few years to several reasons: 1. To the careless and negligent way of preparing the land at planting time. 2. Planting what is called the fall planting in early winter, and on the poorest land and without manure. 3. The very severe winters that we have had for several years, and the careless way of selecting the seed for the next year's crop, thus causing the deterioration in quality of seed in great part, and then not considering oats as very important crop, but only something to feed on until the corn that is expected to come but hardly ever gets there, is ready to house.

The writer has never yet failed in making an oats crop and has never lost any from bad weather at harvest time, but has made enough to feed on from year to year, and to another, and have had parties to come from near Columbia for seed oats in the fall of 1882, when the oats crop, as a general thing, was a failure.

I think, in answer to the fourth query, that the production of fresh seed, that is, seed that is good, but that the only way for us to improve our seed, fresh or not, and keep them pure is by the selection of the finest and heaviest stools or bunches of seed, and by the best and heaviest heads from these. By thus selecting and planting a special acre or two to save our seed from each year I think we will be enabled to retain the pure red oat. By thus doing and using some of the good seed, we will have a good crop of red oats, and by thus doing, they will not under tie and never cure thoroughly until the band is cut. Let us plant more oats, and less corn (which is more difficult to raise) planting apart in the fall and a part in first of January or near first of March, and if those planted in the fall are killed let us not lose heart, but plant over in the spring and we are sure to succeed.

And, lastly, Mr. Editor, I think our county paper deserves the thanks and patronage of the farming community for the interest shown in all matters pertaining to the advancement of the agricultural interests of the county. L. T. WILDS.

Give Th a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any other name of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Use it, and everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Disposer of Events, in the exercise of His inscrutable wisdom, again to lift the veil which divides the life of man from the mystical beyond, and to call within the immortal soul of our well beloved brother, Father SAMUEL GEORGE B. MCCANTS; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Brother P. M. GEORGE B. MCCANTS, Winnsboro, P. M. GEORGE B. MCCANTS, has lost a member who was endeared to his brethren by his ever keen interest in their welfare; and who by his Masonic skill and learning shed a bright lustre over his Lodge.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our deceased brother our heartfelt and sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That blank page in our notebook be suitably inscribed to his memory, and that the Lodge emblem be suitably draped in mourning for the space of thirty days.

Resolved, That this preamble and these resolutions be published in THE NEWS AND HERALD, and that a copy of the same be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother.

IL. N. OBAR, JAS. Q. DAVIS, JNO. J. NORTON, Committee.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Winnsboro Steam Fire Engine Company, held on Thursday, the 4th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His divine wisdom to take from our midst in the prime of life and manhood our esteemed friend and brother fireman, SAMUEL GEORGE B. MCCANTS, whose death we are now called upon to lament; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Company that we leave to his family the burden of his grief, and that our sympathies be extended to his bereaved family in their sorrow.

Resolved, That a blank page in our minute book be inscribed to his memory as a token of our respect and as a memento of his efficient service as a member of this Company, in which he has always been deeply interested from its earliest organization until the time of his death.

Resolved, That this preamble and resolutions be published in THE NEWS AND HERALD, and that a copy of the same be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and that sympathy be given to the family of the deceased as well as ourselves.
